The camera was not invented (4) ----- the 19th century. However, the two basic elements of a camera (5) ----- for hundreds of years before then.

(6) ----- first element of a working camera known by the ancients (7) ----- the effect of a lighted area separated from a dark area with only a pin-hole-opening between them. Ancient people knew that an inverted (upside down) image of the lighted area would (8) ----- on a flat surface in the dark area. As early as the 1400's it was documented that inserting a lens in the hole would (9) ----- a crisper, clearer image.

The second known element of a working camera was the existence of materials (10) ----- of permanent change when exposed to light. They (11) ----- experiments with these light-sensitive chemicals for centuries but did not manage to use them to coat a flat surface. Putting these two known elements (12) ----- was quite difficult for them. Early in the 1800's, the first experiments took place attempting to make images on paper surfaces coated with light-sensitive material. The (13) ----- worked, but a lot of logistical problems still had to be solved. (14) ----- then there have been tremendous improvements and discoveries in the art and techniques of photography. Nobody (15) ----- have dreamed of color or instant photography in those years.
